

Early Decision Program – Deadline December 15, 2008

Applicants who are confident that George Mason is the law school for them may wish to apply through our Early Decision Program.

In order to be considered for Early Decision:

- 1. The applicant must submit a complete George Mason Law application no later than December 15, 2008. In order to be complete, the law school must have received the completed application form, 500-word personal statement and two letters of recommendation (either directly or through the LSAC Letter of Recommendation Service) by December 15, 2008. Applicants submitting letters of recommendation through LSAC should be sure that LSAC has received those letters, as well as the applicant's transcript(s) no later than November 25, 2008. It is imperative that George Mason Law receive the applicant's complete LSDAS report no later than December 15, 2008. Early Decision applicants must take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) no later than October 2008.
2. As part of the Early Decision application, the applicant must agree that, upon being admitted to George Mason Law, the applicant will (1) commit to attend George Mason Law if admitted through the Early Decision Program; (2) immediately following admission to George Mason Law withdraw applications pending at all other law schools; and (3) agree not to initiate applications at any additional law schools once admitted to George Mason Law.
3. George Mason Law will notify Early Decision applicants of a decision no later than January 15, 2009.
4. The applicant must commit to attend George Mason Law within 7 days of receipt of the written offer of admission by making a non-refundable seat deposit in the amount of $750.00. The seat deposit will be applied to fall 2009 semester tuition. Failure to make this commitment will result in withdrawal of the offer of admission.

Applicants who are not admitted through the Early Decision Program will be considered for admission in the standard admissions process.
