

EVIDENCE

(Law 222, §§ 1 & 2)

Professor Parker

Fall 2004

Initial Assignments

Course Materials and TWEN site. The required materials for this course are (1) the Waltz and Park casebook entitled Evidence (10th ed. 2003: Foundation Press)(cited below as “CB”); and (2) a softbound pamphlet entitled Federal Rules of Evidence 2004-2005 Edition (West Group) (cited below as the “Rules Pamphlet”). There also is an optional book that should be available at the Arlington campus bookstore, which is the Mueller & Kirkpatrick hornbook on Evidence (3d ed. 2003: Aspen). Additional required and optional materials will be posted to the course’s TWEN site. For this reason among others, registration at the TWEN site is required of all enrolled students.

Class Meetings. This is a three-hour course that will meet twice weekly, on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4:00-5:15 P.M. (day section; in Room 225) and 8:00-9:15 P.M. (evening section; in Room 332), in one 75-minute session without a break. Given the importance of oral advocacy in Evidence, student participation in class discussions (usually by advocating or ruling on a question of evidence law in a hypothetical case, taken from the casebook hypotheticals or from a variation on one of the assigned cases from the casebook) will be stressed., and will enter into the final grade. A seating chart will be distributed at the first class meeting, and will be used as the definitive indicator of students’ presence and location throughout the semester. For that reason, students may not alternate between day and evening sections, and instead must choose to attend either day or evening for the entire semester.

Initial Reading Assignments.

For August 17 and 19: There will be NO CLASS MEETING on Tuesday, August 17. In lieu of that meeting, read independently the Introductory Lecture posted in the “Course Materials” forum of the course’s TWEN site and Casebook chapter 1. While reading that material, familiarize yourself with the contents of the Rules Pamphlet, with particular attention to the Federal Rules of Evidence. The first class meeting will be Thursday, August 19, for which the assigned reading is Casebook chapter 2, including the hypotheticals in that chapter.

For August 24-26: Continue and complete discussion of Casebook chapter 2. Read and discuss Casebook chapter 4, part A.

From August 31 forward, we will proceed straight through Casebook chapter 3 and the remainder of Casebook chapter 4. A complete syllabus will be distributed during the first or second week of classes, with assignments for the entire semester.

The TWEN site also includes two sample examinations from this course in previous years, one in multiple-choice format and one in essay format.
