Office Hours: By appointment

Class Hours: Tuesday and Thursday, 2:00-3:50 (day section) & 6:00-7:50 (evening section).

Classes Scheduled from Thursday August 21, 2014 through December 3, 2014.

Final Exam: December 6, 2014 at 12:00 pm (the final will be approximately 3 hours long)

Required Sources of Authority:

3. A few law review articles most of which are TBD.

Course Description:

This course focuses principally on state corporate law, although consideration is also given to a number of federal securities laws. This course will also briefly consider agency & partnership law as well as Limited Liability Companies. The course will focus on agency costs, fiduciary duties, shareholder derivative suits, abuse of control and directors' duties generally.

Seating Chart: I will pass out a seating chart.

- Please note that you are responsible for ensuring that you receive your books on time. If the casebook and statutory supplement are available in the GMUSL Bookstore, I intend to hold you accountable for the reading material whether you are in actual possession of a casebook or not.

This is a tentative outline of course coverage. I may add or omit material during the semester. This course covers a significant amount of material and the complexity of the material will increase. Please ensure that you review your notes before class. Excuses predicated on the claim that you read the assigned material weeks ago, and accordingly, you are not prepared, will not be considered sympathetically.

Also note that the Day and Evening section will be graded separately even though the final will be the same.

PARTICIPATION:

- Individuals who are seeking a rigorous and a demanding course which covers a wide variety of material should find this course invigorating and challenging.
- All students, whether or not they are called upon to formally recite, will be encouraged to participate. Consistent with George Mason University School of Law policies, I reserve the right to adjust students’ grades up or down by one step based on my assessment of a student’s overall preparation or lack of preparation. Adjustments will be based on participation, attendance, compliance with course policies including notifying the instructor and his faculty assistant, in advance of one’s absence. Downward adjustments are not a statement about a student’s worth but, instead represent an assessment of a student’s overall contribution to this class, which emphasis the Socratic Method.
- I reserve the right to call on students randomly. Each student is allowed to request a pass for up to two class periods.
- Since you will be on call each and every day, if you know you will be either absent or unable to prepare, you should email me prior to the class and sign up to volunteer for two additional classes. If a student is absent or unprepared but fails to notify me beforehand, his or her final grade will be lowered one step. (The first time this happens, a student can avoid a penalty by preparing a 4-page analysis of the following day’s reading assignment. This analysis must be legible, clear and thoughtful. If a student is unprepared without notifying me beforehand a second time, the penalty cannot be avoided.) If the Business Association course is nearing the end of the term so that an insufficient number of class periods are left in the term in order to comply with the requirement to volunteer for two additional class periods, then students must submit the above-referenced 4-page analysis for the next class period, or if no class periods are left a 4 page summary of the Hutchison & Alley article referenced infra. Please note that I reserve the right to raise grades one-step based on exceptional class participation.
• Attendance will be taken. Ensure that you attend the section that you are registered in. Attendance during the Day section, for instance, will not count as attendance if you are registered in the evening section and vice versa.
• CLASS PREPARATION IS MANDATORY
• Laptop Policy: In order to reduce the level of distractions, COMPUTERS MAY NOT BE USED DURING CLASS IN THIS COURSE.
• Students can use their computer to write their final exam.
• No recording devices can be used during class. A violation of this policy is an honor code violation unless the student attains prior permission.

• PLEASE PREPARE FOR THE CLASS LIKE YOU MIGHT PREPARE FOR A COURTROOM PRESENTATION. Make sure you understand the facts, the law and the policy implications associated with a case or a law review article.
• Final Exam: Scheduled for December 6, 2014 at 12:00pm.

READING ASSIGNMENTS: Casebook readings will likely average 25-40 pages per class. Note: during some weeks additional outside reading may be long and difficult. Note: you are responsible for the materials included in the reading assignment whether we cover the material in class or not.

FIRST DAY ASSIGNMENT (August 21). Read KRB 1-14, 69-78 (introduction to agency) and 79-93. Also read the Restatement of Law (Second) Agency in the statutory supplement, which commences on page 1.

• Pay careful attention to the following issues: the distinction between a principal and agent, the distinction between a master, servant and independent contractor, the distinction between power and authority, the rule governing agents as a fiduciary, the creation of authority, ratification, the rule governing when a master is liable for torts of his servant, the definition of a servant, the general rule with respect to scope of employment, the general rule with respect to duties of agent to principal, the duty of care and skill, the duty of loyalty, the duty to account for profits arising out of employment, Section 395, Using or Disclosing Confidential information, and section 399 remedies of the principal.

• SECOND DAY ASSIGNMENT (August 26): KRB, 93-103, 166-168, 169-181. Read the material covering the Uniform Partnership Act (1914) in the statutory supplement. Pay careful attention to the definition of a partnership, rules for determining the existence of a partnership, partnership property rules, section 9, governing partner as agent of partnership as to partnership business, sections 11-15 and make sure you understand the nature of Partner’s liability, and section 20-22 with a special focus on the fact that a partner is accountable as a fiduciary. What is the difference between a general partnership and a limited partnership? How does a corporation differ from a partnership? What is the metaphysical meaning of limited liability?

- THIRD DAY ASSIGNMENT (August 28): KRB: 181-198. What is a fiduciary?

- WEEK OF

| September 7 | • Read: KRB: 230-268.
• Read: Harry Hutchison, Ampersand, Tornillo, and Citizens United: The First Amendment, Corporate Speech and the NLRB, Volume 8 NYU J. of L. & Liberty. 630 (2014) which is available on either of the following sites: SSRN or Westlaw. Consider carefully whether corporations or LLC ought to have rights or alternatively do rights reside solely in humans? In addition, pay careful attention to pages 675-688 and Justice John Stephens’ viewpoint expressed on pages 688-689. How can we distinguish a corporation from a LLC? |

Note: we may or may not cover the Hutchison Article in class but irrespective of whether we do so, students are responsible for understanding the piece on the day scheduled, during subsequent class periods, and for final exam purposes.

Final Exam.
The final exam will likely consist of a combination of multiple choice and essay questions. The exam will be graded anonymously. The essay component will be more heavily weighted than the multiple choice components. The final exam should be a challenging experience and students should commence preparing for this experience early in the term by outlining and categorizing the material. Again you may use your laptop for the final.
