Tuesday, Thursday 4:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Instructor: Distinguished Visiting Professor Daniel W. Hamilton

Office: Hazel Hall, Room 311 Email: dhamil2@gmu.edu

Office Hours: Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. - 12 p.m. or by appointment. My office is in Hazel Hall, Room 311.

Course Overview: This course is about the interpretation and application of the United States Constitution, and the structure of American government. We will explore the landmark cases over the course of U.S. history that drive our understanding of the Constitution. In particular, we will focus on the way the Constitution and courts consider the allocation of power between the branches of the federal government, and between the federal government and the states. Constitutional interpretation has changed over time, and we will examine both historical and contemporary debates over the meaning and application of the Constitution.

Learning objectives for the course include:

- Learning the legal doctrine of the structure and application of the U.S. Constitution.
- Considering how Constitutional interpretation has changed over time.
- Understanding the competing perspectives on various issues decided by court decisions interpreting the Constitution.
- Developing the ability to debate Constitutional questions with evidence.

Required Text: The following is a required textbook for the course:

Choper, Jesse H.; Dorf, Michael C.; Fallon, Jr., Richard H.; Schauer, Frederick, Constitutional Law: Cases, Comments, and Questions (West Academic Publishing, 14th ed., 2023)

Note: You can find supplemental materials to the casebook here.

The course will have a TWEN page. You will see in the syllabus that excerpts from contemporary cases are referenced. Those will be available on the TWEN page before the classes meet.

Class Format: The class meets on the Arlington Campus from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Please read all of the assigned material and be prepared for active class discussion.

Communication Policy: In addition to office hours, I'm glad to respond to student emails within 24 hours. You should also feel free to email me on nights and weekends.

Attendance: Students are expected to attend class. Per the law school's attendance policy, a student is not eligible to receive credit for a class if they miss more than 20 percent of the class sessions. For a class like this, that meets once a week, this means a student may not miss more than three classes.

Grading: The grade in this course will be based exclusively on the final exam. The final exam will be in-person and open book with respect to any printed or physical materials you want to bring in for the exam. You may also use the internet except for generative AI. The use of generative AI during the exam is strictly prohibited.

The final exam is scheduled for 12 noon on Dec. 4, 2024.

Student with Disabilities: Students with disabilities may request academic accommodations as provided by federal law. Please contact George Mason University's Office of Disability Services (ODS) to request services (ods@gmu.edu, 703-993-2474).

Campus Closure or Emergency Class Cancelation/Adjustment Policy: If the campus closes, or if a class meeting needs to be canceled or adjusted due to weather or other concern, students will be contacted by email for updates on how to continue learning and for information about any changes to events or assignments.
