CONTRACTS I

Law 102 (003)
Fall 2026 (two credits)

Getting Started. Please register for the course website as soon as you receive your Westlaw password during orientation. The website can be found here. The course website will be used for all course materials (other than the required textbooks) and all communications regarding the course.

Course Objectives.

Students in the course will gain doctrinal and substantive knowledge of the fundamental principles of contract law, as expressed in the common law, the Restatement of Contracts (Second), and Article Two of the Uniform Commercial Code. Specific topics include the elements of contract formation, alternative doctrine for enforcing promises, and defenses to the enforceability of oral contracts. The course is designed to teach problem solving and critical thinking skills through the application of common law and statutes to factual situations (ranging from short hypotheticals to complex problem sets). Significant class time is spent examining and developing practical legal skills relevant to the course doctrine, including developing the legal arguments of each of the parties in contracts disputes. In addition, we examine contract law critically to determine whether the court's holding is supported by existing law and other principles such as fairness and efficiency, to name but a few.

Learning Outcomes.

By the end of the course, students should be able to:

- Describe the common law and statutory foundations of contract law
- Identify the rules of contract law applicable in a contract dispute
- Develop persuasive legal arguments for each of the parties in a dispute which demonstrate understanding of the applicable legal principles
- Demonstrate an understanding of the meaning and purpose of common contract clauses and the role they play in a contract dispute

Assignments and Participation. Preparing for our class sessions involves three components (all set forth in detail in the attached Course Outline): (1) Reading/briefing the assigned cases (including reading the notes following the cases); (2) Reading/studying the assigned provisions of the Restatement 2nd of Contracts and/or the Uniform Commercial Code; and (3) Completing periodic review problems.

At the end of each week, I will send an email indicating the material that will be covered in the following week. See below for a course outline for all the material covered in the course.

Class discussion is an important part of your learning experience. I will call on students individually and in groups and ask questions relevant to the assigned material. The purpose of the Q&A format is to enhance your learning (i.e., attempting to answer questions on the assigned material is an excellent way to learn). While I do not expect that students will always offer “correct” answers, I do expect students to have prepared for each class as described above.

Attendance. Regular and punctual attendance of class is a course requirement. Academic Regulation 4-1 provides: “If a student is absent for any reason for more than 20 percent of the sessions of a course, the student is not eligible for credit in that course. A student who is not present for at least 75 percent of a session of the course is absent from that session.” I will monitor class attendance by circulating a sign-in sheet at the beginning of each class session.

Recording Class is Prohibited. No student is permitted to video, audio, or photograph class sessions. Academic Regulation 4-2.2 provides an exception for students with disability accommodations through written permission by the Disability Services office.

Laptops, Mobile Phones and Other Devices. You may use a laptop, tablet etc. to take notes during class or access course materials. You may not use such devices for any other purpose during class.

Office Hours. At the end of every class period, I will remain in the classroom to answer your questions. In addition, periodically, I will schedule group question & answer sessions. Email me to schedule any other meetings.

Grading and Final Exam. Grading in this course will be calculated based on the final examination administered on December 1 at noon. The final exam will be three hours long and include essay and multiple choice or other short answer questions. The final exam is closed book. You will not be permitted to bring any materials into the exam.

Course Materials.

(1) Required Texts:

Knapp, Crystal, Prince, Hart, and Silverstein Problems in Contract Law: Cases and Materials \(Aspen Publishing, 10th edition, 2023\)

Knapp, Crystal, Prince, Hart, and Silverstein, 2023 Rules of Contract Law \(Aspen Publishing\). Please note that a traditional print version of this book is not available. When purchasing the ebook, however, you can buy an on-demand print companion.

(2) Contracts Study Aids (suggested not required):

Review Questions in your casebook: Your Knapp & Crystal casebook includes multiple choice review questions at the end of each chapter. Answers to the review questions begin at page 1161.

Contract Law Videos by the Center for Innovation in Legal Education

Brian Blum, Contracts: Examples & Explanations (Aspen Law & Business, 9th ed. 2025) (includes practice hypotheticals with answers)

Scott J. Burnham, Questions & Answers: Contracts (Carolina Press, 4th ed. 2025) (multiple choice questions)

Academic Integrity. The Academic Standards require all students to uphold the highest personal integrity. Among other things, the standards provide that: “Students are responsible for ensuring the work they are submitting is their own created work. This includes checking to make sure that any information that was not their own creation is properly attributed to the original source, as well as working within the guidelines provided by the professor of the class regarding submitted work. Facilitating misconduct in the form of providing unauthorized resources, tests, or solutions for others is a violation of the university's academic standards and will be dealt with as such. Additionally, students should request an explanation of any aspect of the professor's policies that they do not fully understand.”
