

28
Required Credits

12
Months to Complete the Degree

100%
Remote Class
Access

The Flex-LLM in U.S. Law

Accelerated D.C. Bar Prep

Flex-LLM in U.S. Law

The Flex-LLM in U.S. Law is an intensive course of study designed to meet the high standards required to sit for the D.C. Bar. It covers the structure of the U.S. government and legal system and includes substantive areas of law that meet the subject credit requirements of the D.C. Bar examination. Full-time study from January or May will prepare you to sit for the Bar exam in the following year, in February or July.

Application Information

ACCESS APPLICATION

Please apply directly online at go.gmu.edu/flex-llm or using the QR code.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

Spring: Dec. 24 for Jan. 5
Summer: Apr. 8 for May 9
Fall Start: July 15 for Aug 1

REQUIRED MATERIALS

- Official Transcripts from all institutions
- TOEFL or IELTS Score
- 500 Word Personal Statement
- Resume

Accelerated D.C. Bar Prep

Our goal is to prepare you for the D.C. Bar exam. Courses are limited to those subjects tested on the exam. The curriculum interweaves practice questions and exam preparation. We include a complete Bar preparation course at no additional cost.

Student Quotes

I choose to pursue the U.S. Law LLM at Scalia Law School because it is a great stepping stone in pursuing a legal career in the U.S. It allows a foreign-educated attorney to qualify for the Bar examination to become a practicing lawyer in the U.S. It was a phenomenal experience, allowing me to learn from brilliant and experienced attorneys and academics. The law school is located outside of Washington, D.C. where the major private practices and government entities are located. Therefore, a majority of the professors teaching at Scalia Law are either affiliated with one of the major private practices or government entities, giving students an insider perspective of the legal landscape.

IBNUL ALI KHAN

From United Kingdom

The U.S. Law LLM offered by George Mason University's Antonin Scalia Law School gave me an opportunity to unite my personal and professional goals while preparing for a U.S. Bar exam. The school provides a flexible schedule for those who have full-time jobs or personal responsibilities. It offers great resources that enable students to study every topic in every area of law. One learns how to research and find the answers to challenging questions and problems daily by the educators who have a passion for helping students become leaders while achieving their professional goals. I highly recommend Scalia Law School's U.S. Law LLM to foreign-educated lawyers who want to learn about U.S. law and seek admission for eligibility to sit for a bar examination.

IRYNA RIDCHENKO

From Ukraine

Individualized
Student Support

Full Bar Prep
Course
Included

Career and Library Services

Sample Schedule

CLASSES

Quick-Start:
Winter Term 2022
(2 Weeks)

Spring 2022
Begin Bar Prep
Program in March

Summer 2022

Fall 2022

COURSES

Week 1:
Intro to US Law & Professional Responsibility (1 cr)

Session 1:
Torts (2 Cr)
Civ. Pro. (3 cr)

Session 1:
Contracts (2 cr)
Evidence (2 cr)

Session 1:
Business Assocs. (2 cr)
Conflict of Laws (2 cr)

Week 2:
Economics for Lawyers (1 cr)

Session 2:
Crim Law (2 cr)
Con Law (3 cr)

Session 2:
Property (2 cr)
Family Law (2 cr)

Session 2:
Secured Finance (2 cr)
Trusts & Estates (2 cr)

CREDITS

2 credits -
included in spring
semester

12 credits total

8 credits

8 credits

Bar Examination for Foreign Trained Attorneys

The Flex-LLM in U.S. Law is designed to meet Washington D.C. Bar examination requirements. Students with a strong interest in sitting for U.S. Bar examinations in any U.S. jurisdiction should visit that jurisdiction's Bar examination website and work closely with advisors to be sure they complete all necessary coursework.