

GMU LIBRARIES INTRODUCES INPRIMO FOR STUDENTS AND FACULTY

inPrimo is a new discovery tool that allows searching of multiple research databases, the Mason Catalog, ejournals, media, special collections, and also hundreds of millions of records for collections not owned by Mason.

inPrimo Features

- Filters - help refine your results (e.g., resource type, subject headings, publication dates, etc.)
- Full text - direct links to available online items
- Portability - functions with mobile devices
- inPrimo will not replace the current catalog nor the Law Related Databases or GMU Databases Portals (these remain linked from the Law Library Home Page)

Search in Primo Directly from the Law Library Home Page:

The screenshot shows the Law Library website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Prospective Students', 'Students', 'Faculty', 'Alumni', 'Academics', 'Career', 'Centers', 'Library', and 'Publications'. The 'Library' link is highlighted. Below the navigation bar, the 'Law Library' section is visible, featuring a search bar and a 'Search inPrimo' button. A green arrow points to the search bar with the text 'Search for Books, Articles, and More!'. Another green arrow points to the 'Limit to Mason Collections only' checkbox with the text 'Use Advanced Search to Limit Search Fields'. The page also includes a 'General Information' section with links to 'About the Law Library', 'Law Library Hours', 'Staff Directory', 'Public Patron Access Policy', and 'Student Employment Information'. There is also a 'Find Books & Articles' section with links to 'inPrimo — Discovery Tool for GMU Books & Articles', 'GMU Libraries Catalog', 'Law-Related Databases', 'GMU Database Portal', 'GMU E-Journal Finder', 'Article Discovery Tools — ProQuest & Ebsco', 'Google Scholar', 'Law Library Subject & Title Location Guide', and 'New Books'. Other sections include 'Guides', 'Technology Services', 'Services for Faculty', and 'Suggestions?'. A background image of a library interior is also present.

Find Library Catalog Records and Use Filters to Refine Search Results:

The screenshot shows a search results page for 'Federal Practice and Procedure' in the George Mason University library catalog. The search bar at the top contains the query. On the left, there are several filter sections: 'Expand My Results', 'Show only', 'Refine My Results' (with sub-sections for Resource Type, Date, Library, and Subject), and 'Subject'. The main results area shows 245,529 results, sorted by relevance. The first result is a book by Charles Alan Wright and Arthur Raphael Miller, available in the library. Other results include articles and symposium proceedings. A green arrow on the left points to the filter sections with the text 'Use Filters to Refine Results'. A green arrow on the right points to the first result with the text 'Find Book in Library Catalog'.

Search inPrimo for Articles and Link to Full-Text:

The screenshot shows a search results page for 'The New Property' in the George Mason University library catalog. The search bar at the top contains the query. On the left, there are several filter sections: 'Expand My Results', 'Show only', 'Refine My Results' (with sub-sections for Resource Type, Date, Library, and Subject), and 'Subject'. The main results area shows 2,930,231 results, sorted by relevance. The first result is an article by Rach, Charles A., titled 'The New Property', available in full text. Other results include articles about collective titling and property insurance. A green arrow on the left points to the search bar with the text 'Search for Articles'. A green arrow on the right points to the first result with the text 'Find Article in GMU Databases'.

